Subject: Update: Dewey Burdock UIC Permit PNs for Newspaper Publication

Importance: High

Hi Sallena: by way of an update, we (i.e., Lynne) should have a publication-ready version of our public notice ready to submit to you later this week along with the final cost estimates for each local news source (including a web-based tribal publication). These costs may come in somewhat higher than we anticipated since we are lengthening the earlier draft version of our public notice and want to be sure we have enough money on each PR to more than cover the cost.

Concurrently, could you please let us know when you find how much money has come into the right object class for covering these costs in FY 17?

FYI, our revised deadline for publishing the PN in all local news source is NLT Friday, October 21st.

Thanks!
